PART II – FACTS

- 1 2.1 Farrell Brayer has been employed with the Franciscan Health System since 1987 as a
2 Respiratory Care Practitioner in the Cardiopulmonary Department. Ms. Brayer's duties
3 have been primarily completed at St. Clare Hospital and this is the location wherein the 4 present dispute arises.
- 5 2.2 Throughout her career and until the time period at issue in this complaint, Farrell Brayer
6 has received exemplary performance evaluations for the method in which she completed
7 the tasks associated with her position at St. Clare Hospital.
- 8 2.3 At some point prior to this dispute, Ms. Brayer began voluntary service as the Union
9 Shop Steward for her local healthcare workers union. It appears that her service was 10 performed in conjunction with Local 6 and 1199NW.
- 11 2.4 The relationship between Local 6, Staff Union, and 1199NW is unknown at the present,
12 but it appears that initial grievances were forwarded to Local 6. Later communications
13 between Farrell Brayer and her union representatives, including investigation pertaining 14 to her termination, were conducted by 1199NW. Ms. Brayer has served as Shop Steward
15 for both organizations.
- 16 2.5 In or about 2001, Farrell Brayer began to suffer from disparate and hostile treatment by 17 her supervisor, Carrie Ford. Ms. Brayer contacted the Human Resources Department for 18 the hospital and Local 6/Staff Union/1199NW to raise her concerns. No corrective action 19 was taken.
- 20 2.6 Farrell Brayer began to feel discriminated against by her supervisor. She was treated 21 differently than other employees and was the constant victim of Carrie Ford's hostility.
22 Consequently, the excellence of Farrell's evaluations began to decline for reasons other
23
25

1 than actual performance. Ms. Brayer disputed the claimed the shortcomings in the
2 employee comment section of her evaluations.

3 2.7 Farrell Brayer also began wearing a pin, attached to her clothing, which evidenced her
4 membership with Local 6, Staff Union, 1199NW, and/or SEIU. Because of Farrell's
5 association with the foregoing organizations, as well as wearing the decorative pin that
6 described her union affiliation, she began to suffer from disparate and hostile treatment,
7 including being sent home without pay for "dress code" violations.
8

9 2.8 Farrell was aware personally, and by informant, that her supervisor, Carrie Ford, wanted
10 her employment with St. Clare Hospital terminated for non-performance related reasons;
11 and, her performance started to decline, accordingly, in the opinion of Carrie Ford.
12

13 2.9 Ms. Brayer made numerous complaints, verbal and written, to the Human Resources
14 Manager for the hospital, as well as to her union representatives at Local 6, Staff Union,
15 and/or 1199NW. No efforts were made to correct the hostile situation that Farrell was 16 forced to endure. Moreover, her requests for accommodations were also denied,
17 including requests for time-off under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA).
18

19 2.10 After a few "unsatisfactory" performance warnings and infractions related to wearing the 20 union pin, Farrell Brayer was forced to sign a "Last Chance Agreement" in October of 21 2003 in order to continue her employment with the hospital. Although she had been a
22 member and Shop Steward for Local 6 and 1199NW for many years, those organizations
23 failed to take adequate action to represent Ms. Brayer's interests in the events leading up
24 to the Last Chance Agreement.
25

- 1 2.11 On November 14, 2003, Farrell Brayer was terminated from her employment with St.
2 Clare Hospital and the Franciscan Health Care System for responding to a concerned
3 patient regarding his/her treatment. Ms. Brayer's supervisors and/or the hospital Human
4 Resources Department deemed this action "gross misconduct" and a violation of Last
5 Chance Agreement.
6
- 7 2.12 Farrell Brayer filed another grievance with 1199NW regarding her termination from 8 employment with St. Clare and the Franciscan Health System. She asserted that St. Clare
9 Hospital breached the employment agreement and detailed what sections were violated.
- 10 2.13 On December 2, 2003, 1199NW declared that there had been no adverse action against 11 Ms. Brayer by her employer under the employment agreement despite a plethora of 12 evidence to the contrary.
13
- 14 2.14 Farrell Brayer filed for unemployment compensation after her termination, which was 15 wrongfully opposed by St. Clare Hospital and/or the Franciscan Health System.
- 16 2.15 Ms. Brayer had been in repeated and constant contact with the National Labor Relations
17 Board (NLRB) regarding her complaints of unfair labor practices. On December 8, 2005,
18 after a deferral under the "Collyer Policy," the NLRB sent a letter to Farrell Brayer that
19 the "Union" and "Employer" agreed to resume processing the Plaintiff's allegations
20 under the contractual grievance procedure. It is now over two years since Ms. Brayer has 21 filed her wrongful termination grievance, and no corrective action has taken place.
22

23 PART III – JURISDICTION 24 25

1 3.1 The Plaintiff's claims of action are brought pursuant to Federal labor law, including the
2 National Labor Relations Act (NLRA), the Labor Management Relations Act (LMRA),
3 and the Labor Management Reporting and Disclosure Act (LMRDA).

4 3.2 Jurisdiction is proper in Federal District Court.
5

6 PART IV – COUNTS ALLEGED
7

8 Count 1 – Breach of Contract

9 4.1 The foregoing paragraphs are incorporated herein as alleged.

10 4.2 Farrell Brayer was a member of Local 6, Staff Union, 1199NW, and/or SEIU, which are 11 employee unions. Local 6, Staff Union, and/or 1199NW entered into a collective 12 bargaining agreement with St. Clare Hospital and the Franciscan Health System for the 13 benefit of their members.

14 4.3 The employment agreement between St. Clare Hospital and Local 6, Staff Union, and/or 15 1199NW stated that employees could only be discharged for cause. The reasons for 16 Farrell Brayer's discharge were manufactured by hostile and combative supervisor.
17

18 4.4 The Defendant, St. Clare Hospital of the Franciscan Health System, violated the terms of 19 the employment agreement by terminating Farrell Brayer without just cause.

20 4.5 Consequently, St. Clare's actions constitute an unfair labor practice under the National 21 Labor Relations Act (NLRA), a violation of Section 301 of the LMRA, as well as 22 wrongful termination, causing the Plaintiff damages in an amount to be proven at trial.
23

24 Count 2 – Breach of Duty of Fair Representation
25

1 4.6 Defendants, Local 6, Staff Union, and 1199NW, had an affirmative duty to zealously
2 represent Farrell Brayer after she filed a grievance for termination of her employment.
3 The law has recognized that under the duty of fair representation, a union must represent
4 fairly the interests of all bargaining unit members during the negotiation, administration,
5 and enforcement of collective bargaining agreements

6
7 4.7 Local 6, Staff Union, and 1199NW neither provided adequate representation, nor
8 properly investigated Plaintiff's claims against St. Clare Hospital under the employment
9 agreement.

10 4.8 Local 6, Staff Union, 1199NW have breached the duty of fair representation by not 11 properly investigating or processing Farrell Brayer's claims, causing damages in an 12 amount to be proven at trial.
13

14 Count 3 – Violation of Right to Free Speech and Free Association
15

16 4.9 All citizens are guaranteed the right to free speech and free association under the First
17 Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. Moreover, existing labor laws have historically 18 sought to mimic the speech and association protections of the First Amendment under 19 various acts and regulations. Section 101 of the Labor-Management Reporting and 20 Disclosure Act (LMRDA), codified at 29 U.S.C. § 411, explicitly protects an employee's
21 right to free speech.
22

23 4.10 Farrell Brayer was subject to hostile treatment because of her association with Local 6, 24 Staff Union, 1199NW, and/or SEIU. She also faced adverse action by her employer by 25 wearing a pin that identified her union affiliation.

1 4.11 Hostile and adverse action by St. Clare Hospital against Farrell Brayer is in violation of 2 the First Amendment and the LMRDA, causing the Plaintiff damages in an amount to be
3 proven at trial.
4

5 Count 4 – Emotional Distress

6
7 4.12 Because of the hostile environment created by supervisor Carrie Ford and St. Clare
8 Hospital, Farrell Brayer was constantly the victim of emotional anguish. Moreover,
9 Local 6, Staff Union, and/or 1199NW failures to process her grievances caused Ms.
10 Brayer emotional damages in an amount to be proven at trial.
11

12 Count 5 – Violation of FMLA

13 4.13 St. Clare Hospital of the Franciscan Health Systems was arbitrary and discriminatory in
14 its allowance of qualified Family and Medical Leave Act time-off, causing the Plaintiff
15 damages in an amount to be proven at trial.
16

17 Count 6 – Wrongful Opposition to Unemployment Benefits

18
19 4.14 St. Clare Hospital willfully opposed Farrell Brayer's qualifying application for 20 unemployment compensation. The opposition was based on unfair labor practices and 21 the recommendation of a hostile and combative supervisor.

22 4.15 The denial was unemployment compensation was inappropriate, causing the Plaintiff
23 damages in an amount to be proven at trial.
24

25 PART V – RESERVATION OF CLAIMS

1 5.1 The Plaintiff reserves the right to bring any and all additional claims that may arise by
2 way of future investigation, disclosure, or discovery.
3

4 PART VI – PRAYER FOR RELIEF

5 WHEREFORE, having fully complained, the Plaintiff respectfully requests the 6 following:
7

- 8 1. For judgment against the Defendants;
- 9 2. For an award of back-pay, plus accrued interest;
- 10 3. For immediate reinstatement of the Plaintiff to her prior position of 11 employment;
- 12 4. For the Court to award the Plaintiff her costs and disbursements herein, 13 including reasonable attorney's fees;
- 14 5. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and fair.
